New Hire Orientation

On December 16, 2005 Human Resources held their first group new hire orientation. A total of 19 new administrators, support staff and B&G hires were in attendance.

President Chopp began the day with a welcome to the group and an introduction of the President's staff. Topics covered included Colgate's organization, mission and values; the mission and key programs of HR; an overview of Colgate's culture; staff training and development; safety on the job; sexual harassment; grievance and anti-discrimination policies; performance reviews; and compensation.

Joining the group for lunch and a discussion of support services their departments offered were several administrators. A panel discussion, made up of a diverse group of employees, gave the new hires a chance to ask questions and to hear about what panel members like best about Colgate; what they wish they knew when they first started working here; and social and cultural options in Hamilton and beyond.

New hire orientations will be continue to be scheduled on a quarterly basis. After receiving valuable feedback from the participants, some minor changes and additions will be made to the program. Human Resources thanks all those in attendance for helping to make the first new hire orientation a success.
SPAM Update
For 2006, we will share more news in this space about the data network and the services provided by the Network, Systems & Operations team. Jen Servedio provided the information for this month’s column:

In the fall of 2004, NSO implemented a Barracuda Spam/Virus blocking firewall to combat an overwhelming number of spam messages being sent to University Faculty, Staff and Student mailboxes. Since that time we have been able to successfully filter out the majority of spam and virus infected emails before they hit your mailbox.

Totals for 2005 (1/1/05 – 12/31/05)
- Total email messages received 33,386,235
- Blocked spam emails from known spam sites 24,671,941
- Blocked email messages containing viruses 272,761

So far in 2006…
- Total email messages received 616,150
- Blocked spam emails from known spam sites 479,293
- Blocked email messages containing viruses 5,091

The Barracuda device is kept up-to-date with the latest spam sites through subscriptions to blacklists which include sbl.spamhaus.org and xbl.spamhaus.org.

sbl.spamhaus.org – Spamhaus Block List (SBL) is a realtime database of IP addresses of verified spam sources (including spammers, spam gangs and spam support services), maintained by the Spamhaus Project team and supplied as a free service to help email administrators better manage incoming email streams.

xbl.spamhaus.org - Spamhaus Exploits Block List (XBL) is a realtime database of IP addresses of illegal 3rd party exploits, including open proxies (HTTP, socks, AnalogX, wingate, etc), worms/viruses with built-in spam engines, and other types of trojan-horse exploits.

FIsh! Philosophy
What happens when you have a group of fishmongers who decide to incorporate into their lives a simple, common wisdom? They become world famous of course.

The Pike Place Fish Market in Seattle is the birthplace of the FISH! Philosophy made famous by a film produced by John Christensen. FISH! is “a life-long learning approach that inspires us to feel alive and engaged in the work we do.”

A fishmonger’s work, I imagine, is one of long hours, spent stocking, selling and packaging smelly fish. While filming, Mr. Christensen discovered that even among these fishmongers remarkable results occur when one accepts the invitation to:

1. Be There for their coworkers and customers;
2. Play;
3. Make someone’s day, and;
4. Choose Your Attitude about how you show up for work

Over the next few months, the Open ‘Gate will explore the four principles above. Let’s look at how the staff in Admissions incorporate the FISH! philosophy into their work. Remember, play helps us to bring energy and enthusiasm into the workplace.

Admissions staff finds time in their busy, sometimes grueling schedules, to play. Different activities and celebrations throughout the year help to build camaraderie, relieve stress and enhance the individual and departmental success. Many of the activities and celebrations coincide with the height of extremely busy times in Admissions.

Boss’s Day occurs during travel season, during which time the administrative assistants successfully handle a huge influx of visitors and phone inquiries. Administrative Professionals Week occurs during a peak visit time for parents and prospective students. A point is made to celebrate both events in unique and fun ways; building camaraderie and showing their appreciation for one another.

Annual activities include the Secret Travel Buddies where Deans purchase small gifts for members of the administrative staff. The gifts are distributed anonymously and act as clues for the recipients to guess the identity of their secret travel buddy. Another is the annual sledding party and luncheon. Staff members brave the cold and snow, hop on a sled and have a grand time in the midst of a very hectic work season.

Admissions success at managing thousands of applications and visitors each year can, in large part, be attributed to their pulling together as a team. They have an extraordinary sense of team and continually think of ways to build camaraderie.

Q. Can you update us on the catastrophic leave pool?

A. Colgate University maintains a catastrophic leave pool to assist non-exempt employees who are faced with a catastrophic illness of their own, or that of a family member, and have exhausted their own leave balances. The medical catastrophe must be severe enough that it requires continuous, long-term medical treatment by a licensed medical practitioner. The employee requesting leave must complete an application which requires a detailed explanation of the reason for the request. The supervisor is consulted to ensure that the need for catastrophic leave is not due to an employee’s history of sick leave abuse. The Associate Vice President for Human Resources manages the leave pool and requests donations from employees on an annual basis, each December, although donations are accepted at any time. Staff may donate either vacation or sick time to the pool in increments of not less than one day and not more than one week, provided that they maintain a minimum balance of 60 days of sick leave after the donation.

This past December, 18 employees donated a total of 343.25 hours to the catastrophic leave pool, including donations from employees who have benefited from the pool in the past. Leave from the pool that is unused by an employee due to changing circumstances is returned to the pool (i.e. return to work sooner than anticipated, etc.). In 2005, donations from the pool were provided to two employees. Below is a chart that shows the breakout by year of all donations and withdrawals from the pool.

This is the real secret of life - to be completely engaged with what you are doing in the here and now. And instead of calling it work, realize it is play.
