White Bone was Never Alive but for the Red Blood Within:
How Repatriation Leads to a More Complete Recognition of Native American Humanity and a More Ethical Scientific Practice

A TALK BY

DOROTHY LIPPERT
Repatriation Office, Smithsonian Institution, National Museum of Natural History

Monday, November 19, 2007
4:30 PM - 6:00 PM
Persson Hall Auditorium

CO-SPONSORS: DEPARTMENT OF SOCIOLOGY AND ANTHROPOLOGY, DEPARTMENT OF THE CLASSICS, NATIVE AMERICAN STUDIES PROGRAM, AND CORE CULTURES PROGRAM