Dear Class of 2014,

Do you like music and think that everyone should hear your favorite songs? Does your knowledge of sports rival that of commentators on ESPN? Can you report the news as well as NPR (maybe not that good, but close)? Have you ever wanted to debate somebody about the top 25 albums released after 2000 or test someone’s knowledge of the most obscure musical trivia that you know? If you answered yes to any of these questions, then you should apply to WRCU’s pre-orientation program.

WRCU is Colgate’s student-run radio station that broadcasts throughout Central New York at 90.1FM. It hosts a variety of shows including sports, talk, and any genre of music. It is the University’s largest student group, with over 180 DJs and provides students with a chance to meet other students that share similar interests. WRCU also boasts state-of-the-art facilities in the 2-year-old Blackmore Media Center that allow DJs to use equipment that is better than many professional stations.

WRCU’s Pre-Orientation program will introduce ten freshmen to the world of broadcasting with an emphasis on immediate hands-on learning. It is a great opportunity to begin participation in Colgate’s radio station, avoid the rush of move-in day, and meet other students before orientation begins. The program will include a variety of sessions to help students learn everything about radio, a keynote address, and radio shows by all freshmen.

Students move in early on Monday August 23, dinner will be provided Monday night, and sessions begin on Tuesday August 24 and run for two days. Housing and meals will be provided for all participants. To apply go to www.wrcufm.com and click on “apply” in the upper right-hand corner. Applications are due July 18. If you have any questions about WRCU or WRCU Radio Pre-Orientation 2010 please contact Kevin “Clusty” Blatz (kblatz@students.colgate.edu), Emma MacDonald (wrcuprogramdirector@gmail.com), or Joy Nichols (jnichols@students.colgate.edu) for more information.

Sincerely,
WRCU Board of Directors
