Events — Friday, October 30

10:30–11:30 a.m. | 107 Lawrence Hall
Reception and Information on Japan Study Group: The first information session for the Spring 2017 Japan Study Group. All those interested in meeting faculty members who teach Japanese are welcome. Light refreshments will be served. Directed by Professor Yukari Hirata and Professor Spencer Kelly.

12:15–1:15 p.m. | Colgate Memorial Chapel Basement
HSA Brown Bag — Auspiciousness and Gender at the Kailasanatha Temple in Kanchipuram: Auspiciousness provides a precise and consistent logic for understanding the placement and shapes of sculpted figures at the 8th-century Kailasanatha temple in Kanchipuram (Tamilnadu). That pattern governs the bodies of gods and goddesses alike, likening deities across gender and grouping them instead by the nurturing or ascetic energies that animate them. That pattern can thus remind us of how profoundly constructions of gender may differ from the particular binary we have inherited from the 20th century. Professor Padma Kaimal from the Department of Art History will lead the talk.

1:00–5:00 p.m. | 275 Case-Geyer Library
Special Collections and University Archives Open House: Special Collections and University Archives will showcase the fantastic items from our collections, including stereographic views of campus from the early 1900s and rare books dating from 1562 to 1975. During the fall exhibit, follow the rise of The Shadow and his enduring legacy, charting his beginnings as a 1930s pulp magazine vigilante to his present-day iteration as a masked comic book hero.

3:00–4:00 p.m. | 109B Lathrop Hall
COVE Open House: Join us for cider and donuts and conversation about the Max A. Shacknai Center for Outreach, Volunteerism, and Education’s volunteer work in the community.

5:00–7:00 p.m. | Saperstein Jewish Center
Shabbat Services and Dinner: Join the Colgate Jewish Union for the weekly Shabbat Service and meal.
6:00–7:00 p.m. | Donovan’s Pub
The Mantiphondrakes Family Weekend Concert: “Trick or Treat Yo Self”: On the night before Halloween, the Mantiphondrakes present our annual Family Weekend Concert: “Trick or Treat Yo Self.” Experience a night with the Mantis. Order dinner and enjoy the show. You’ll hear a fantastic array of music ranging from Sufjan Stevens and the Hobbit soundtrack, to the Queen B, Beyoncé herself.

6:15–7:00 p.m. | Ho Tung Visualization Lab, 401 Ho Science Center
Space Aliens — Vis Lab Show: From ancient philosophers to modern-day scientists scouring the sky for exoplanets, humans have always wondered who else might be “out there.” In Space Aliens, we’ll embark upon an inter-galactic journey in an attempt to answer the ultimate question of the universe: Are we alone?

7:00–9:00 p.m. | Colgate Memorial Chapel
Colgate Thirteen and Swinging ’Gates Concerts: Purchase your ticket at the door or at Registration Headquarters.
7:00–8:00 p.m. | Digital Learning & Media Center, 584 Case-Geyer Library
Create ’gate: A new annual event where students can learn about the digital media resources Colgate has to offer, show their creativity and artistic skills, and, with a new gallery-style website, display their creative works. Colgate’s immensely creative and talented students will share their work in various ways. This event provides shared space to showcase their ideas and visions and a celebration to kick it off.

7:15–8:15 p.m. | Ho Tung Visualization Lab, 401 Ho Science Center
Sea Monsters — Vis Lab Show: Journey 80 million years back in time to an age when mighty dinosaurs dominated the land — and an equally astonishing assortment of ferocious creatures swarmed, hunted, and fought for survival beneath the vast, mysterious prehistoric seas. Stunning, photo-realistic imagery recreates the perilous underwater realm of two young dolphin-sized marine reptiles called Dolichorhynchops, or “Dollies,” and follows their incredible journey through waters ruled by some of the most awesome predators ever to prowl the Earth’s oceans. Interweaving groundbreaking fossil finds from around the globe with cutting-edge computer-generated recreations, National Geographic’s powerful storytelling immerses you in the life-or-death drama of an age when monsters ruled the seas!

8:30–9:30 p.m. | Ho Tung Visualization Lab, 401 Ho Science Center
Rock ’n’ Roll Cosmic Light Show: This Vis Lab show is a mix of classic rock selections from the late 60s through the early 90s. Offering more than a soundtrack, this show features interludes and vignettes of the sights and sounds that symbolized the evolution of rock history.

8:00–10:00 p.m. | Donovan’s Pub
Silent Auction for Bwindi Community Hospital: The Global Health Initiative will auction items from local businesses to support the Bwindi Community Hospital in Butagota, Uganda. The hospital is dedicated to creating a healthy and productive community where individuals are free from preventable disease and have access to excellent health care services. The hospital focuses on improving children’s health, maternity and family planning, surgery, diagnostics, and HIV/AIDS and tuberculosis care. Colgate has a long-standing partnership with this hospital; doing research and data analysis to help make their programs stronger and more effective. The money raised will help further these efforts and support the community.
