Section I.c Enrollment

Provide the number of students in the teacher preparation program in the following categories. Note that you must report on the number of students by ethnicity and race separately. Individuals who are non-Hispanic/Latino will be reported in one of the race categories. Also note that individuals can belong to one or more racial groups, so the sum of the members of each racial category may not necessarily add up to the total number of students enrolled.

For the purpose of Title II reporting, an enrolled student is defined as a student who has been admitted to a teacher preparation program, but who has not completed the program during the academic year being reported. An individual who completed the program during the academic year being reported is counted as a program completer and not an enrolled student.

Additional guidance on reporting race and ethnicity data.

Section II Assurances

Please certify that your institution is in compliance with the following assurances. (§205(a)(1)(A)(iii), §206(b)) Note: Be prepared to provide documentation and evidence for your responses, when requested, to support the following assurances.

Preparation responds to the identified needs of the local educational agencies or States where the program completers are likely to teach, based on past hiring and recruitment trends.

Yes

Preparation is closely linked with the needs of schools and the instructional decisions new teachers face in the classroom.

Yes

Prospective special education teachers are prepared in core academic subjects and to instruct in core academic subjects.

NA

Prospective general education teachers are prepared to provide instruction to students with disabilities.

Yes

Prospective general education teachers are prepared to provide instruction to limited English proficient students.

Yes

Prospective general education teachers are prepared to provide instruction to students from low-income families.

Yes

Prospective teachers are prepared to effectively teach in urban and rural schools, as applicable.

Yes

Describe your institution's most successful strategies in meeting the assurances listed above:

The Colgate teacher education program is an all-university program. That means that evidence for the effective strategies for many of the assurances asked for in this report is found in classes across the university. Our teacher education program requires both a liberal arts major and eight or nine (depending on the level of certification) education courses. The combination of courses in the liberal arts and in education provides both the content and the methods for teaching in elementary and secondary schools.

The training provided to prospective teachers does respond to the needs of local agencies and states where our graduates are hired. We periodically survey the employers of our former students and they overwhelmingly state that our graduates are leaders in their school, have an excellent command of content material, and manage well-organized classrooms.

We work closely with area schools; this close working relationship allows our students to attend professional development workshops which keep them up to date on current issues faced by teachers. All prospective teacher certification candidates take courses that teach them to instruct children with special needs, limited English proficient students, and children from low-income families.

Our college is located in a rural area and several of our faculty take our students to various educational institutions in nearby urban centers. These experiences provide our students with some of the initial training necessary for effective teaching in these types of schools.

Section IV Low-Performing

Provide the following information about the approval or accreditation of your teacher preparation program.

Is your teacher preparation program currently approved or accredited?

Yes

If yes, please specify the organization(s) that approved or accredited your program:

State

TEAC

Is your teacher preparation program currently under a designation as "low-performing" by the state (as per section 207(a) of the HEA of 2008)?

No

Section V Use of Technology

Provide the following information about the use of technology in your teacher preparation program. Please note that choosing 'yes' indicates that your teacher preparation program would be able to provide evidence upon request.

Does your program prepare teachers to:

- integrate technology effectively into curricula and instruction
Yes
- use technology effectively to collect data to improve teaching and learning
Yes
- use technology effectively to manage data to improve teaching and learning
Yes
- use technology effectively to analyze data to improve teaching and learning
Yes

Provide a description of the evidence that your program uses to show that it prepares teachers to integrate technology effectively into curricula and instruction, and to use technology effectively to collect, manage, and analyze data in order to improve teaching and learning for the purpose of increasing student academic achievement. Include a description of the evidence your program uses to show that it prepares teachers to use the principles of universal design for learning, as applicable. Include planning activities and a timeline if any of the four elements listed above are not currently in place.

All students at Colgate are introduced to various technologies in many of the classes they take. Since students earning certification take these courses, they are introduced to a wide variety of media and technology. In addition the students earning certification get specific training in media literacy – learning how to select appropriate visual resources for their classes. They take courses which introduce them to making digital stories and power point presentations as well as other uses of computers in the classroom. They are all required to produce a web portfolio providing evidence of their learning in their student teaching experience; this web portfolio is used as evidence in the accreditation of our program by TEAC. Members of our IT staff work with the students when they learn to use this technology.

Section VI Teacher Training

Provide the following information about your teacher preparation program. Please note that choosing 'yes' indicates that your teacher preparation program would be able to provide evidence upon request.

Does your program prepare general education teachers to:

- teach students with disabilities effectively
Yes
- participate as a member of individualized education program teams
Yes
- teach students who are limited English proficient effectively
Yes

Provide a description of the evidence your program uses to show that it prepares general education teachers to teach students with disabilities effectively, including training related to participation as a member of individualized education program teams, as defined in section 614(d)(1)(B) of the Individuals with Disabilities Education Act, and to effectively teach students who are limited English proficient. Include planning activities and a timeline if any of the three elements listed above are not currently in place.

All of our students who are earning certification take a required special education course. This course focuses on special education law, major categories of disabilities, and the in-school programs that meet the needs of students who are in special education. Special attention in this class is given to the issues of diversity and education in the "least restrictive environment." In addition to this class, students take other courses where students with disabilities are not the focus of the class, but are among issues that the class addresses.

Does your program prepare special education teachers to:

- teach students with disabilities effectively
NA
- participate as a member of individualized education program teams
NA
- teach students who are limited English proficient effectively
NA

Provide a description of the evidence your program uses to show that it prepares special education teachers to teach students with disabilities effectively, including training related to participation as a member of individualized education program teams, as defined in section 614(d)(1)(B) of the Individuals with Disabilities Education Act, and to effectively teach students who are limited English proficient. Include planning activities and a timeline if any of the three elements listed above are not currently in place.

Colgate University does not have a special education teacher preparation program.

Section VII Contextual Information

Please use this space to provide any additional information that describes your teacher preparation program(s). You may also attach information to this report card. The U.S. Department of Education is especially interested in any evaluation plans or interim or final reports that may be available.

Colgate University's teacher education program is small. While it meets New York State regulations, and is accredited by TEAC, it is also individualized to meet the needs of students in the program. Although not reported due to the fact that our program is small, our pass rate is 100%.
