COLGATE UNIVERSITY

Career Services

Effective Networking

Did you know?

68% of companies offer a referral compensation program

94% of employers used social media for recruiting

93% of recruiters will look at a candidate's online profile after they apply of recruiters have made a hire through social media

80% of all job/internship opportunities are not posted online is cultivating relationships over time to learn about a field of work, employer, or place. There are two main purposes for networking: information and strategy. How, with whom, when, and for what goal all depend on your purpose.

NETWORKING

Networking for Information

START HERE: I'm unsure of my career path and Who? am exploring possibilities - Professors - Career Advisors - High School/Colgate alumni - Professionals in your field of interest Choose people who can give you (entry-level often have more time to talk) a general idea of their work - Friends and family - Colleagues/peers Sample Questions: Prep questions designed to Research your contacts understand: - What aspects of your job do (LinkedIn™, Google, you like? - The individual's personal Glassdoor, employer website) experience to inform the questions you ask - What skills do you use? to help steer the A typical work day conversation - How the industry and its Want more? constituents function Find other sample questions on Career Services' website Practice your pitch What about you should they know? - Your name, class year, major, activities at Colgate

TIP: When corresponding, show that you've done your research. Try, "I noticed your organization recently implemented _____. OK, how do you see this affecting your day-to-day work?"

- Why you're interested in the industry/employer

- Why you chose Colgate

GOAL:

Gain a clear idea of whether this path is interesting to you and a good fit

Politely reach out to your contacts

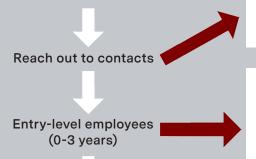

NETWORKING

Networking for Strategy

START HERE:

I'm ready to apply

Research your contacts
(LinkedIn™, Google, Glassdoor, employer website) to inform the questions you ask and help steer the conversation

Now you should be able to talk confidently about the employer and industry, and articulate why you're interested/a good fit

Higher level employees (5+ years)/ people involved in recruiting/those who influence hiring

Sample outreach email:

Hello Mr./Ms./Dr.____,

I am a junior at Colgate University, and I found your contact information through Career Services. After my experience in volunteering with local children, I am strongly considering a career in social advocacy. I was hoping I could set up a 20-minute phone call with you to discuss your experiences in this field. Please let me know if you might be willing to talk with me, and I will follow up to schedule a call.

Thank you, and I look forward to hearing from you,

Your Name

Prep questions designed to understand:

- Information about the employer not found on the website
- Résumé feedback, details about the application process, and advice to strengthen your application (opportunities to mock interview)
- Classes or activities to prepare you for a career in the field
- Referrals to others

Prep questions designed to understand:

- How to be the best possible candidate
- How to expand your network

TIP:

- Mention others with whom you spoke
- Be straightforward, but not demanding, about your objectives
- Ask for, but don't expect, a call or meeting
- Be ready to reiterate your interest with specificity

GOAL:

- Become a stronger, more informed, and confident candidate
- Develop an intimate knowledge of the application process
- Gain advocates within the employer

TIP: Remember you become an extension of your contact's reputation when your contact advocates for you. This is more likely to happen when you make a consistently good impression. See tips on reverse.

MAINTAIN/CULTIVATE YOUR NETWORK

Networking is not a "one and done" interaction. Having consistent contact is crucial to maintain and build your network.

- · Keep your connections up-to-date with your professional and academic accomplishments
- · Circle back to your contacts with additional questions or thoughts that demonstrate your expanding knowledge or focus
- Don't wait until you have a question or personal update before you get back in touch; reach out to share interesting articles, Colgate news, or holiday wishes

Our career advisors can strategize with you to draft emails and questions, and keep your dialogue active.

Courtney Aldridge

David Loveless

James Reed

Kat Kolozsvary

Laura Chrisslev

RESOURCES FOR NETWORKING

ONLINE-

iCAN (2

Colgate's Alumni Career Advisory Network To gain access:

- Have your résumé certified this academic year
- Attend a "Network or Not Work" workshop or meet with an advisor

Linked in

The world's largest professional networking platform and a great resource for job searching.

- Create a complete LinkedIn[™] profile (see our guide for more info)
- · Find and connect with Colgate alumni (linkedIn.com/alumni) and other contacts
- · Join these groups and others that interest you:
 - "The Official Colgate University Group"
 - Colgate's Professional Networks (colgate.edu/networks)

IN-PERSON-

- Networking receptions
 - Colgate provides many!
- Events through Alumni Relations or professional organizations
- · On your daily commute, the airport, waiting for coffee, etc.

Tips for networking (in-person and online):

- Display proper body language, make eye contact, and provide a firm handshake
- Be prepared for conversations
- Treat alumni volunteers and other contacts with the utmost respect
- · Ask for contact information to stay in touch
- · Be respectful of people's time
- · Send thank you notes (e-mail is fine)
- · Spell check and proofread your messages
- Be aware of your digital presence on social media (Facebook, Twitter, Instagram, blogs, etc.)